I have to pinch myself each time I walk through the gallery door Angela Yarwood muses having recently taken over at Brook Gallery in Budleigh Salterton. I feel that all of my working life has been in preparation for running this business underpinned by a life long love of the arts, my time in accounts, a long career in sales and marketing management, and a dabble in photography inspired by my two beautiful children has given me the disciplines needed to run a successful gallery. With a backdrop of the Atlantic Ocean out of the back window, and a shop front filled with the best fine art imaginable, going to work is never anything but an absolute pleasure.
